Around About Town

"I see that the Times' reporter has been putting some kindling wood under the city's political pot and started it to simmering," said a prominent republican this morning. "Some of the suggestions made in the Times and good news to the republicans. If carried out, and if those suggestions are made with democratic authority, and the 'dem's' will carry out the contract then there will be no hot election this spring as the city will go through its annual political upheaval."

"When the race for mayorality is brought down to a race between C. J. Morehead and Judge Magoffin, the majority of the republicans will be for Mr. Morehead," said a republican to Round About today. "Many democrats have been trying for a long time to get Mr. Morehead before the people for mayor and now they have a good chance. The republicans recognize Mr. Morehead's ability and know that if he is mayor he will be responsible for the city administration for the next two years, and believe a majority of the republicans will give him a trial and make no fight against him. On the other hand if Judge Magoffin is put up by the democrats for mayor, the republicans will place Charles Slack in the field and Mr. Slack can beat him. I know Mr. Slack does not want the office and his business would suffer if he should accept the republican nomination, but if Judge Magoffin is run by the democrats, then the republicans will induce voters and the Australian ballot I feel confident that Mr. Slack can show Judge Magoffin a clean pair of heels."

"Mr. Morehead is my preference for mayor among the democrats," said another prominent republican this morning. "I have always recognized Mr. Morehead as being the best man in front of the democratic party in El Paso. While he never comes forward himself he always has a following who get out and do his bidding. There is no doubt in his executive ability and I think it would be a good idea for the republicans to let the election go by default, as far as the mayor is concerned, if Mr. Morehead is placed at the head of the ticket. If Judge Magoffin is placed at the head of the democratic ticket I am in favor of a fight being made against it."

"It is pleasure before business on the other side of the river," said a business man to Round About this morning. "I went over the river yesterday to attend to some pressing business with a Mexican lawyer, I called at his office and was told that he was out with a friend. I sent a boy to call on him and he did not show up in half an hour. I sent another messenger after him and in three-quarters of an hour he showed up and excused himself by saying that he was out at the business and could not attend to the business at hand sooner. I was considerably put out by the delay and missed mailing a letter that was to go out on an afternoon train. On this side of the river it is business and pleasure but on the other side it is pleasure before business."

"Pat King, the HERALD's circulation increaser is an artist in his line," said a smelter man this morning. "The day after the week Pat King, the smelter with an arm full of HERALDS and a letter to the superintendent in his pocket. He presented the letter to the superintendent's clerk and the clerk told him that the superintendent was not in and would not be until 12 o'clock, but that it was strictly against orders to allow any one to enter the smelter while the men were at work. He told Pat, however, that he could go outside and catch people on the outside while he was waiting for the superintendent to show up. Pat did wait around and at 12 o'clock again walked into the superintendent's office and produced his credentials. He was very merry," said the superintendent, "but it is strictly against rules to allow any one to enter the smelter during working hours." "Oh that's all right," said Pat, "I've been through the smelter while the men were out and I got everybody to subscribe for the HERALD that can read English. Much obliged for the time you have given me. Do you take the HERALD? If not now's the time to get it. The superintendent was in and sent a far away look at Pat as he started back to town."

"An old printer was sitting in Round About's quarters last night spinning yarns on past experiences. Out of a long story he remembered to tell of the following letter from an inconsolable widow which was sent to the paper on which the veteran print was then working: 'Mr. Editor, I desire to thank the friends and neighbors who sent me the following letter from the united aid and co-operation during the illness and death of my late husband, who expired from me by the hand of death on Friday last while eating breakfast. I am a widow and have no one to rely on for help, and I am so very lonely towards making the last moments and funeral of my husband a success. I desire to thank most kindly, hoping these few lines will find him enjoying the same blessings I also have. I have a milk cow and a roan gelding horse which I will sell cheap. God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform. He plants his footsteps on the sea and rides upon the storm. Also a black and white goat very low.'

"The city ticket proposed in this morning's Times by Mr. Cole," said a republican this morning, "is not a bad one. It is doubtful, however, if they will accept it. Mr. Cole is not likely to be a candidate as he is compelled to be absent from the city the larger share of the time. Consequently it is doubtful if he has the necessary republican named are available."

Doctor Vandell in talking of his trip to Galveston, to Round About this morning said: "Yes, I saw the Texas battleship on board twice—and she is the finest ship of her class in the American navy. The mean talk about her originated with the contractors who have built, or are building other ships, because the Texas was built by the government in its own navy yard. Galveston was crowded with people and the state pride manifested was inspiring to Texans."

"I saw E. H. Green, chairman of the republican state committee," said Dr. Vandell, "and had a pleasant talk with him, and I want to tell you that he is a man of brains and character. I am a democrat, as you know, but as I recognize the fact that as a rule, it is not a good thing to have only one party."

practically, in a state, as we have heretofore had in Texas, I am glad to have that Mr. Green is endeavoring to build up a republican party in Texas on the lines of decency,—a very different party from the aggregation of pie-planters that it has heretofore been."

"I came by Austin as I returned and saw our representative Welch," continued the doctor, "and on matters concerning organized labor, he is an authority with the soldiers. Gov. Culberson takes it as quite a compliment that he ran behind the state ticket in El Paso, from having been 'scratched' by the disreputable element for having done his duty in preventing the Fitzsimmons-Maher-Corbett prize fight on Texas soil."

ROUND ABOUT.

FREE LECTURE to Men and Women.

DR. R. FLOWER, of Boston, Will Deliver His New Lecture Entitled

"TRIUMPH AND GLORY OF WOMAN AND MAN," at the Opera House. Next Friday Evening at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Flower is recognized by many as the greatest orator on the American platform. What the press says: "Never was lecture better received nor audience more highly entertained than at Tremont Temple last night. The lecturer was Dr. R. C. Flower.—Boston Journal."

Dr. R. C. Flower's lecture in Washington last, yesterday afternoon, for real eloquence, beauty of thought, elegant expression, keen sarcasm, irresistible wit, in grace of person and ease of delivery, was the finest platform effort ever made in this city. The interest and enthusiasm of the audience could not have been greater; the hall was crowded and thousands were turned away.—Indianapolis (Ind.) Journal.

Dr. R. C. Flower lectured yesterday afternoon in Assembly hall to over 1,200 women, representing largely the best culture and brains of the city. Never was an audience more enthusiastic in praise and applause than this vast assembly of women. They laughed and cried at the same time.—Philadelphia Times.

Notice of Registration.

Beginning at 8 a. m., on the first Tuesday in March, 1897, the same being the first Tuesday in said month, in room thirteen (13) Wells-Fargo building, the room now occupied by W. W. Briggs, Jr., justice of the peace as a justice's office, the books of the office of registrar of voters of the City of El Paso, Texas, will be open for the registration of voters at the city municipal election to be held in said City of El Paso, Texas, on Tuesday, April 13, 1897, the same being the second Tuesday of said month of April. Said office will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m., every day, beginning said second of March, 1897, will open for twenty consecutive days, Sunday excluded. Under the law no person not registered will be entitled to vote.

George W. Adams, of Chicago, who in 1874 engineered the biggest corner on gold ever heard of in this country, killed himself the other day in Chicago after scripping on a bill head, "I die hungry." Had the big corner come out a right he would have won over $3,000,000. As it happened the corner crashed before he could unload, and left him a pauper. After this he became a housekeeper, but for the past six months has been out of employment.

R. V. Peter Wallace, D. D., died at his home in Chicago of cardiac disease, aged 84 years. For over forty years, Dr. Wallace was one of the foremost preachers in the Methodist church, and was well known in Illinois and was a war veteran of the fighting class. He raised a company in 1861 in Sangamon county, the Seventy-third regiment, known as the "preacher regiment," all of the officers from colonel down being preachers.
